CHAPTER XII. CHEMICAL DOCTRINE OF LIGHT, SHADE, AND COLOURS. 294. Having dismissed the geshetical analogy and chromatic relations and harmony of light, shade, and colours, we proceed finally to the physical doctrine and facts by which the premises of our work are confirmed on a solid foundation in nature and science. 295. According to our chemical doctrine of light and colours, delivered under other relations, and our brief inquiry into their physical causes, the ethereal matter, called electric, is light in a Outlines of Analogical Philosophy, vol.
